The Brown County Youth Fair rolled around again on January 12, 13, and 14. This year, as every other year, it was cold and wet. It rained on Wednesday night and stayed cold the rest of the time. There was nothing unusual about this year's Youth Fair.

The Youth Fair itself started on Wednesday, but for the students it began at the first of the year. They had to buy their stock — swine, lambs, rabbits, steers and heifers. They spent quite a bit of money on feed and water for these animals. For the Clothing division, there was also a lot of money spent on material, thread, buttons, etc. It took a long time to prepare for this event that only lasted 3 days.

The first day of the Youth Fair was Wednesday. This was the day for the judging of the clothing construction, getting the pigs in the barns, and weighing the lambs. Thursday, pigs were weighed, lambs were judged, and the May FHA members worked in the concession stand. Friday, the dairy cows were shown, and Friday evening the style show took place. Saturday was rabbit judging day, and the steer show. In the Home Economics division the foods, crafts, and canning were judged. The livestock auction brought the 1984 Youth Fair to a close on Saturday night.

1. Melissa Norris placed 5th on her pant suit. She also received high point individual in the Homemaking division. 2. Karen Pittman is showing her 8th place Hamp swine. 3. Glenn Pittman shows his Hamp swine that also won 8th place. 4. Teresa Petross represented our school in the Queen Candidacy. Part of her job was to distribute refreshments to the bidders. 5. Al Briscoe and Bryan Thompson are showing their Hamp swines. Al's was awarded 4th place and Bryan's was awarded 11th place. 6. Merisha Fergeson placed 1st in the Clothing division with her dress. 7. Mr. Allen contributed his time to helping the boys prepare for the Youth Fair. 8. Al's 4th place swine is in the pen with the top 6. 9. Scott Ashworth is showing his 14th place Hamp swine. 10. Scott shows another Hamp swine that was given 12th place. 11. Sissy Burnett was awarded 2nd place with her shirt and blouse. 12. Jo Ann Windham came to see the May participants. 13. Al shows his other Hamp swine that won 4th place. 14. Crissy Moore was awarded 1st place with her pant suit. 15. Corey Ashworth is showing her 7th place Duroc swine. 16. Teresa shows her Duroc swine that placed 2nd and received Reserve Champion in her class. 17. Mrs. Martin extended her help to the girls with their clothing and also helped in the concession stand. 18. Crissy received 1st place with her suit along with high point individual in the Senior Clothing division and best model in Senior Modeling division. 19. Mark Freeman is showing his Hamp swine that won 12th place. 20. Bryan received 11th place with his Hamp swine.

The May Independent School District has many blessings. Our school has a competent, dedicated faculty and staff to instruct our students. Our school has a student body that seems to reach higher achievement each year.

What could better reflect these achievements than this, the 1984 TIGER. Congratulations, Seniors of 1984, for this yearbook, and best wishes for your future.
